Refuses to Run This Year.

Coming within fifty votes of election to the office of president general at the congress of the D. A. R. held two years ago, it was expected by many of her friends that Mrs. Horton would again be a candidate for the honor at the election just held, but in this she re-fused the appeal of her friends, declar-ing that she preferred to allow Mrs. Story to have the "courtesy vote" in a re-election.

Until this time, Mrs. Horton has held off in her formal announcement, but after conferences with friends today
decided she would not further withhold her name from consideration.

SHAD HATCHING SEASON "ON."

Thousands of Eggs Started at Bry-

ans Point Propagating Station. The shad hatching season is now in full operation at the Bryans point propagating station of the United States fisheries bureau and many thousand shad eggs are gathered each day and started on the journey toward be-coming young shad. The fisheries service steamer Philarope, which each sum-mer comes to the Potomac from New mer comes to the Potomac from New England to assist in gathering shad eggs from the fishermen along the river, arrived at Bryans point several the company of the river of the ceveral smaller craft she daily visits the nets along the river and gathers of the spawn to be taken to the station. When the young fish are large enough to take care of themselves they will be shipped to streams in various parts of the country where the natural conditions are such that shad will grow and increase in numbers.

So far the catch of shad along the river in the vicinity of Bryans point has been small and the outlook is that the hatch at the station this season will be below the average of several years past. Conditions are favorable for the appearance of the fish in the river, but the catch is extremely light compared with the past two years, when the shall company; verdict for plaintiff of $1,569; plaintiff sattorneys.
